SOCOMI lam®

FASCIA AND TRIM

FEATURES

Substrate - Time Tested Doug Fir

Socomi Lam® fascia and trim is manufactured from Doug Fir, a species that has been used in exterior building applications for well over 150 years.

Construction

Socomi Lam® is engineered laminated veneer lumber products composed of solid wood veneers laid out in a parallel grain with two solid veneer crossbands. They are engineered and manufactured for uniform stability, strength and appearance.

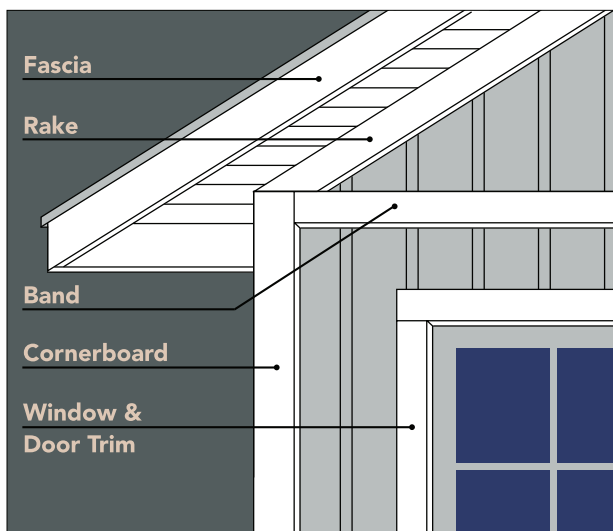

Socomi Lam® Rough-Sawn Fascia & Trim

Many applications call for a rough-textured appearance. Socomi Lam® is manufactured from laminated veneer lumber with a high-grade Doug Fir veneer face. A rough-textured face is then applied.

BENEFITS

- The proven performance of Doug Fir provides a durability advantage in exterior installations over many fascia currently available.
- Rated by the US Forest Labs moderately decay resistant.
- Many solid or fingerjointed fascia products available today are manufactured from non-durable species and provide little long-term durability.
- Consistently lies flat and stays straight.
- Greater dimensional stability.
- Minimizes natural defects, such as warping, splitting and shrinkage.
- Long lengths.
- All boards are graded for exceptional appearance.
- All Socomi Lam® is edge sealed and double primed on face and edges.
- All Socomi Lam® fascia and trim products come with a 10-year limited warranty.
- Each piece is consistent: 100% useable 100% of the time.

Applications:

Install Socomi Lam® according to available installation and handling instructions.
